Re: Slips Currently For Sale - 2017

The UOAGYC is not acting as an agent or broker for the slips currently offered for sale – but rather we are providing information between sellers and potentially interested parties. Any further discussions related to the purchase of a slip will be exclusively between the owner and the interested party. In the case a person expresses an interest in a slip, we will provide the unit owner with the contact details of the interested party for further correspondence. The unit owner will be responsible for any further correspondence.

We will endeavor to update the list periodically. The UOAGYC has no control over the asking price for the slips, however we have encouraged unit owners to look at recent sales and average (per foot) pricing for each size slip when setting the price.

If you have any questions, please contact me (Patrick@gyc.com) or Scott (scott@gyc.com).
